

Missouri

In Missouri, the food and beverage industry contributes at least $5,895,791,000 per annum in value added to the economy, employs at least 41,202 people, and operates 579 facilities.¹

The food industry in Missouri also relies heavily on strong access to foreign markets, as processed foods account for approximately 23.7% of total non-durable exports.²

¹Data from 2006 Annual Survey of Manufacturers or 2006 County Business Patterns conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau

² Foreign Trade Division, U.S. Census Bureau