

New Hampshire

In New Hampshire, the food and beverage industry contributes at least $707,833,000 per annum in value added to the economy, employs at least 4,264 people, and operates 93 facilities.¹

The food industry in New Hampshire also relies heavily on strong access to foreign markets, as processed foods account for approximately 6.0% of total non-durable exports.²

¹Data from 2006 Annual Survey of Manufacturers or 2006 County Business Patterns conducted by the U.S. Census Bureau

² Foreign Trade Division, U.S. Census Bureau